

HERMES

CREATIVE AWARDS

Escape the Wolf eLearning and Branding Recognized with Top Creative Award

May 27, 2011 – Media Box Studios is proud to share that our eLearning Courseware and Corporate Branding created for Escape the Wolf has been recognized with a first and second place award in an international creative competition in May.

Hermes Creative Awards recognize creative professionals involved in the concept, writing and design of traditional and emerging media. Its competition awards outstanding work in the industry while promoting the philanthropic nature of marketing and communication professionals.

Over 4,400 entries from throughout the United States, Canada and several other countries were judged by industry professionals who look for companies and individuals whose talent exceeds a high standard of excellence and whose work serves as a benchmark for the industry. Media Box Studios is honored to have work recognized by such an outstanding award.

To learn more about Escape the Wolf's foundational eLearning Program and experience their Corporate Branding first hand, visit www.escapethewolf.com

Media Box Studios is a media solutions company which specializes in digital communications products and technology. We provide a full range of services for advertising, marketing, education, and communications. To see our work, what we've accomplished and how we can deliver MORE with less, visit www.mediaboxstudios.com.